

EndoCon Cancellation Policy

In the unlikely event that the EndoCon conference is canceled entirely due to local or state regulations regarding events or capacity limitations, we will offer a refund of the registration fees. Please check with your hotel and airline to see their policies related to canceling reservations.

If only the in-person event is cancelled and a virtual option is offered, we will switch all reservations to the virtual event at a reduced registration fee and will refund the difference unless otherwise requested.

If capacity limits are imposed, EndoCon will offer both an in-person and a virtual option. If you register for in-person attendance and then decide to attend virtually, we will convert your ticket provided we are notified at least 48 hours prior to the event.

Cancellations Due to COVID-19

While we want you to attend EndoCon, in the event that you, your spouse, or someone in your household tests positive for COVID-19; because you need to care for a family member who has tested positive for COVID-19; because you are experiencing symptoms of COVID-19; or because you have come in contact with someone who has tested positive for COVID-19, you will receive a full refund of all registration fees paid to EndoCon providing the request is submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event start date of October 14, 2021.

In addition to our policies regarding your attendance at EndoCon, by purchasing a ticket for our live event, you agree to comply with all COVID-19 safety measures that may be implemented by event staff or the event venue, or that may be required by law or public health agencies. These may include, but not limited to, reduced capacity, social distancing and mask requirements.
